

CORONAVIRUS: what you need to know

MARCH 11 2020

WHAT IS CORONAVIRUS?

Novel coronavirus (COVID-19) is a new strain of coronavirus that affects everyone differently.

Symptoms of novel coronavirus are similar to a common cold or flu. People of all ages can be affected by the novel coronavirus. However, elderly people, and people with medical conditions such as asthma, diabetes or heart disease can become very ill.

PROTECTING YOURSELF

Novel coronavirus is usually spread when an infected person coughs or sneezes on another person, or from touching dirty surfaces.

To protect yourself practice good hygiene including:

- cleaning hands with soap and water or alcohol-based hand rubs;
- covering your nose and mouth with a tissue or into your elbow when coughing or sneezing;

CLEAN HANDS SAVE LIVES

6 steps to successful everyday hand washing

- 1 Rub hands palm to palm.
- 2 Rub hands palm to palm with fingers interlaced.
- 3 In a circular motion rub the tips of fingers in the palm of the opposite hand.
- 4 Clean thumb by holding it in the other hand and rotating.
- 5 Interlock fingers and rub back of fingers on opposite palms.
- 6 Rinse hands with water.

- avoiding contact with anyone who has symptoms such as fever, a cough, sore throat, tiredness, and shortness of breath; and
- staying home if you are unwell.

WHAT IF I FEEL UNWELL?

Symptoms of coronavirus are similar to a common cold or flu and include temperatures, a cough, sore throat, tiredness and shortness of breath.

What are the symptoms?

- Fever
- Cough
- Fatigue
- Sore throat
- Shortness of breath

Anyone with these symptoms who has travelled internationally 14 days prior to illness onset, including airport stopovers, should see a doctor immediately. Before your appointment, please call ahead and advise of your symptoms and recent travel so necessary precautions can be undertaken.

People with suspected novel coronavirus will be tested with a simple swab test, and results will be available within days.

Remember if you are required to self-quarantine, contact your employer as soon as possible to discuss your leave options.

ALWAYS PHONE FIRST!

If you feel unwell and think you may have novel coronavirus, remember to ALWAYS phone your nearest health clinic, hospital or doctor, rather than going in person.

Presenting to the health service in person could put staff and other patients at risk of infection if you have coronavirus or another illness.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Should public events be cancelled?

There is no need to cancel any events or gatherings or take additional precautions to normal practice at this time. People who are unwell should not attend public events.

Is there a treatment for coronavirus?

There is no specific treatment for disease caused by a novel coronavirus. However, many of the symptoms, such as temperatures, can be treated and therefore treatment is based on the doctor's recommendation.

Is there a vaccine for coronavirus?

There is currently no vaccine for a novel coronavirus.

Is the hospital prepared for coronavirus?

The hospital and health services are well prepared to respond to novel coronavirus. The Cook Shire Local Disaster Management Group (LDMG) is working to ensure contingency plans are in place in the event of a local coronavirus outbreak.

Is it still safe to go to the hospital for my check ups?

If you have an appointment at hospital or need to attend for another reason, or in the event of an emergency, it is still safe to do so. Our hospital and health services are well prepared to respond to coronavirus.

Where can I find current travel advice?

Visit www.smartraveller.gov.au for up to date travel information, including flight delays or impacts and what is being done at airports to protect Queenslanders.

Is it safe to receive a letter or package from China or overseas?

Yes, it is safe. People receiving packages from China or overseas are not at risk of contracting the novel coronavirus.

Should I self-quarantine?

If you have coronavirus symptoms and have travelled internationally, including airport stopovers, or been in contact with someone who has coronavirus 14 days prior to illness onset, you should self-quarantine for 14 days.

If you feel unwell and have travelled internationally, including airport stopovers, or been in contact with someone who has coronavirus 14 days prior to illness onset, phone your doctor immediately.

Should I stock up on supplies?

Residents are advised not to panic buy, but to ensure they have adequate essential supplies such as food basics and prescription medication. This is to ensure they are able to remain self sufficient should they be required to self-quarantine for 14 days.
