Chief Executive Officer

- Outstanding executive leadership opportunity in Far North Queensland
- Lead significant community engagement, organisational performance, advocacy and economic development projects
- Executive remuneration package, including housing.

Cook Shire Council is seeking a skilled local government Chief Executive Officer to shape the future of this dynamic organisation and community. For the organisation, Council is seeking a connected and engaging leader who has strengths in governance, community engagement, community development, change management and organisational performance. To support elected members, Council is seeking an experienced and skilled advisor who engages readily, establishes strong governance frameworks and offers guidance to the Council on both the long term strategy for the organisation and the issues of the day.

Applicants must demonstrate:

- Previous experience working in local government in a similar level position.
- Strategic leadership capabilities and an inclusive, engaging personal style.
- Experience in developing and maintaining productive community and stakeholder relationships.
- Strong commitment to corporate governance frameworks, organisational performance, advocacy and representation, and community development.

Cook Shire is offering an excellent executive remuneration package, reflecting their commitment to attracting the highest calibre candidates. Working from Cooktown, the successful applicant will enjoy a great family lifestyle, regular air services, good medical facilities, choice of schooling and a variety of sporting and recreational facilities.
